

CREATING TRANSFORMATIVE ENCOUNTERS

International intensive workshop in Participatory and Human Specific Performance

2021

September 16-24
in Vordingborg,
Denmark

WELCOME TO THE UNIVERSE OF CANTABILE 2

The focus of Cantabile 2's performances is the intimate encounter between individuals. The ambition of our artistic work is to create the grounds for extraordinary, here and now meetings between people. The performance frames and the unconventional interaction patterns are to enable both performers and audience members to be receptive and responsive to each other, and to share and witness the beauty of vulnerability. In order to achieve that, we create performance universes that can accommodate a very specific number of participants. Each audience member is seen, touched and spoken to and all senses are involved in the communication. A special quality of Cantabile 2's work is the basic principle of non-fiction; abandoning the concept of fictive characters.

INTRODUCTION TO THE WORKSHOP

Creating Transformative Encounters is a workshop in Participatory and Human Specific Performance open to English-speaking participants from all countries. All teaching will be in English. The workshop is addressed at professional performers, live artists, theatre makers and other professionals with interest in close encounters between individuals. The nine days, intensive workshop will be focused on exploring interactivity, participation and intimacy in different spaces, mainly away from the classical theatre stage.

Participants will investigate in which ways sincere and non-fiction based communication with the audience members can trigger strong emotional and sensorial responses. The boundaries for intimacy between strangers will be challenged, evoking authentic, receptive and trusting modalities of participation.

A lot of focus will also be put on exploring and creating performative, interactive games and rituals between participating audience and performers. The students will experiment with developing participation based on interactions, drawing inspiration from both traditional ceremonies and from computer based adventure games, and modern board games.

Working individually, in pairs or in small groups, the participants will research an artistic language that speaks directly to the senses and replaces fiction with true here and now presence. Some of the specific themes and exercises will therefore be connected with:

- The creation of a sensorial universe. Devising and guiding sensorial experiences.
- Relating to a participating audience within a structure of personal interaction.
- Exploring borders of emotional and intellectual interaction.
- Using non-traditional spaces for framing experiences with journey-like structures.
- The creation of a true personal connection, within a set frame of a performative universe.
- Use of personal, biographical material outside of the typical storytelling frames.
- Different forms of open dramaturgy, labyrinth-like performance structures.
- Creation of small interactive group dramaturgies.
- Risk taking: the performer in the double role as both guide and protagonist.
- Physical contact with a participating audience.
- Creating a non-invasive environment for bodily communication.

THE TEACHERS

NULLO FACCHINI (Italy/Denmark, born 1960) started working professionally with theatre from 1981 as director assistant at Teatro Nucleo in Italy. In 1983 he founded his own company, called Cantabile 2, which he still directs today. In 1984 the company moved to Denmark. Cantabile 2 has now, since 1990, status of Regional Theatre of Vordingborg in Denmark. Nullo Facchini also initiated and was principal at School of Stage Arts, (1988-2006) which for almost two decades has been the only Danish alternative to classical theatre schools. Facchini is also the creator and artistic curator of the WAVES Festival, a biennale presentation of international theatre, dance and performance that has taken place in Vordingborg since 1991. In his early career Nullo Facchini directed many indoor and site specific pieces, with a very stark visual style and poetic language, often blending theatre and dance. With the performance The Venus Labyrinth from 2003 he took a drastic turn in his work, now focusing on intimacy and personal interactions between the performers and the audience members. Nullo Facchini has won several prizes and awards through the years, latest in 2018 when Cantabile 2's Human Specific Performance Hidden Number won the Danish Reumert Award for Best Performance of the Year, and in 2020 he was honored by the 27th edition of CIFET – Cairo International Festival of Experimental Theatre.

SIRI FACCHINI HAFF (Denmark, born 1977) was educated in 2004 from Cantabile 2's School of Stage Arts (DK). Since then she has been part of the core team at Cantabile 2, taking part in performances, touring nationally and internationally, and assisting the artistic direction of the company's bigger productions. She has toured several solo pieces. She has done extensive voice training at Complete Vocal Institute (DK) and Centre for Creativity and Theatre (DK).

She has done music studies at Clarendon College, Nottingham (UK), and studied physical acting in Buenos Aires as well as traditional dances in Ghana. For more than 20 years she has studied a range of disciplines within meditation, physical awareness and tantra with teachers such as Yongey Mingyur Rinpoche, Byron Katie and Mooji. Siri is director of Cantabile 2's Children and Youth, Sanseværk, and the last 16 years she has been a teacher at Cantabile 2.

The workshop 2021 will also involve guest teachers.

STATEMENTS FROM PREVIOUS WORKSHOP PARTICIPANTS

This was very surprising. I was surprised, and I really surprised myself. I found out something about myself, that I had no idea I have. I found different versions of myself, that was very moving. It was a very emotional journey.

Ieva, Letland

It surprised me how good these methods work, that you in very few minutes perhaps less can meet complete strangers and get a real contact, a real connection with them and share a moment together, that is very special and very sincere. I think that is something most people will be able to use, also in their everyday life.

Stine, Denmark

It was such a great experience, very dense. So many emotions came out. It was a very useful work about how to structure these transformative encounters, and my hope is to integrate this whole experience into my life when I come back home.

Maria-Gulia, Italy

I really had transformative encounters with the outside guests coming to attend my work at the night of showing. Meetings that I will never forget, which I still have strong emotions about sometimes.

Valdemar, Denmark

Something happened that I did not expect at all, namely that I have developed such a very sensitive feeling in my body. I really feel that my body is so much present in this room right now.

Nanna, Denmark

The best thing I bring with me back home is that I really want to do theatre again. These days I've had experiences that I haven't had since I started making theatre. It's a really big thing to get to this kind of starting point.

Marianne, Germany

I am closer to myself after this experience. I am more aware of the pace, that I lived my life in.

Stine, Denmark
